

Fashion Fictions

- World 127

- Because of climate change, Bergen, the rainiest city in Europe, became the rainiest city in World 127 in 2010. The consumption of umbrellas became very high, and the 2015 world's pandemic made this industry stop among others. A local group of inhabitants decided then to create a local industry of recycled umbrellas, the most used fashion article in this city.
 - People started organizing workshop to fix umbrellas or create new ones from local fabric waste (old fishnet, old clothes waterproof, sailing fabrics etc.). They created a new local industry, more jobs, less waste, and social media allowed the local concept to spread in the world and to become a normal thing to do.
 - What if ...recycling and fixing the most useful article in Huddersfield was a priority? And what if this article was an umbrella? What if this umbrella's were used to send messages to others and used to celebrate events?

How can we evolve the story at Moorlands?

Linking to the King's Coronation celebrations in May, classes are being asked to create new celebratory umbrellas for the coronation. Using old and broken umbrella's the children are to use fabric waste fabrics and creative stitching to make wonderful new umbrellas.

Designs should link to the Coronation and Moorlands- thinking about our shared values. Below are some images and ideas that might help you to get thinking about your amazing creations. It may link to one of his charities (see below)

Classes can create as many umbrellas as they wish which will be showcased in a big parade on Friday 5th May.
